----- JCrackChat allows you to search/find online users with similar interests, in a fast, easy and fun way. JCrackChat is not a bot, does not auto-block, logs conversations... JCrackChat was created as a fun way to stay in touch with your friends, family and friends. Unfortunately, this was the best way to present the application. Sadly, all of the great feedback on the application was redirected at the coding, and never at the ease of use. JCrackChat was not intended to be used by trolls, spammers, or other unacceptable users. A beta version of this application was created to show the community how useful this application can be, and I have hopefully made JCrackChat user-friendly and enjoyable. If you are interested in improving the application, I encourage you to "Ask me" (for help with areas where help is needed. I'm humbled to be able to have been asked to help with such a "cool" app. Will the type of user who uses this make any suggestions to improve JCrackChat? Its ok to post a question, open a thread, and state your concerns. Please do not ask me to post a "better" question. I appreciate all of the feedback you have provided. I am very hopeful that the app will be a success, and that we can continue to offer JCrackChat to our family, friends and friends alike. I appreciate all of the feedback you have provided and would like to thank all of the users of this application. If we can't continue to offer JCrackChat, please note that I have to "get creative" in doing so. On the demand side I would like to thank everyone that has inquired about JCrackChat in the beginning, I would love to make sure you all feel welcomed and satisfied in our community.
