I want to use the session attributes, because I want to use the same query parameters at the same time. But it seems I cannot use session attributes inside of the except clauses of a query (in my case within the Upload query). Here is the excerpt of my code: from flask import Flask, render_template, request, session, flash, url_for from flask_login import login_user, login_required, current_user from flask_migrate import Migrate from sqlalchemy import create_engine from
